EDITOR'S NOTE

It's About Time

It's one of the great joys of parenting to watch your children grow up and develop their interests.

Of course, it's pretty fun if they come to share a few of your own along the way.

I never pushed too hard, but I planted the seeds of Boston Bruins fandom from the moment my two boys were born. Maybe I should have tried harder because those roots didn't take. One grew up revering the Dallas Stars, the other the San Jose Sharks. Oh well, at least they were hockey fans.

I also exposed them to a wide variety of quality tunes, from Cheap Trick to D Generation, from Siouxsie and the Banshees to the My Bloody Valentine, from the Misfits to Ministry, from the Cramps to Ghoultown. Today, they could not care less about music. No interest at all. I'll never figure that one out.

Then there's the hobby. They were exposed to it from a young age, going with me to shows, sorting boxes, and even helping break quality control cases during my Panini days. But outside of making an annual tradition of building the Panini/Topps sticker sets, it never seemed to grab them.

So it took me by surprise when I went to the mailbox a few weeks back and found multiple envelopes addressed to my oldest.

Turns out several guys he works with are die-hard collectors. They got talking and the next thing he knew they were hitting the LCS at lunch, picking up a few cards here and there. It wasn't long before he was scanning the message boards and eBay looking to grab everything he could of Dallas defensemen Esa Lindell and Miro Heiskanen.

And just like that, he's all in. I'm getting a package or two a week in the mail, and he's getting two or three a day. We're making runs together to buy supplies, and he's keeping me posted on the local shows (there are so many in DFW these days I can't keep up).

It's a blast when he shares his latest pickups with me. There's nothing like seeing him light up over some obscure Lindell parallel that's just arrived.

But mostly I'm enjoying the quality time we're spending together bonding over this shared interest.

As any parent knows, that time is a diminishing asset as your kids grow older. I'm grateful at this point that his newfound love for the hobby has given me just a little bit more of that precious commodity.

WHAT IS IT?: Team Canada Juniors returns to provide a comprehensive look at some of the most promising young talent from the world's dominant hockey nation. The product includes a familiar mix of autographs and memorabilia cards (four per hobby box) along with a handful of other inserts and parallels to complement the future star-laden checklist.

THE BASICS: The 150-card base set is broken down into three subsets. Members of the Men's U18, World Junior, and Women's U18 teams take up the first 72 spots on the checklist followed by 28 Pride of the Program high numbers. Fifty shortprinted Program of Excellence cards close out the set (1:8).

Parallels for the first 100 cards include:

- Red Foil – 1 per pack
- Rose Gold Foil – 1:2 blaster packs
- Patterned Foilboard – 1:10 packs
- Outburst – 1:15 packs
- Purple Patterned Foilboard – 1:30 packs
- Blue Patterned Foilboard – 1:120 blaster packs
- Clear Cut – 1:36 packs
- Deluxe – /250
- Exclusives – /100
- Gold Patterned Foilboard – /35
- Red Outburst – /25
- High Gloss – /10
- Gold Outburst – 1/1

Program of Excellence is more limited on the parallel front but you'll find:

- Clear Cut – 1:60 packs
- Exclusives – /100
- High Gloss – /10
- Black – 1/1

CHASE HIGHLIGHTS: Most of the hits in this product stem from the base set. Autographed patch cards are the key pull, numbered to 150 or less. Standard player cards have Jersey (1:6), Signature (1:60), and Signature Black (1/1). The same three options exist for Pride of the Program as well, although with different odds: Jersey (1:60), Signatures (1:480), and Signature Black (1/1).

Program of Excellence Autographs are 1:120 packs.

Other inserts use a variety of printing technologies. Plastic-like acetate is the main feature of License to Ice (1:105), their Red parallels, and National Phenoms (1:180).

Team Canada FX (1:120) and Drive for Gold (1:40) utilize foil coating to give their backgrounds a more intricate pop.

Shine Bright (1:90) is a new set, showcasing the best players from both the men's and women's squads, Red parallels drop 1:180.

The insert program concludes with Built for Success (1:25) and Ascending Talent (1:38). Both have Red (/125) and Purple (/49) parallels. Select cards in these two sets also have scarce autographs numbered to 10, along with one-of-one Black Autographs.

WHAT DO YOU THINK? The Team Canada license has been well utilized over the years by UD, allowing the company to introduce dozens of players who went on to become hobby stars. This year's checklist is set to provide some outstanding pre-rookie singles for players such as Matthew Schaeffer, Caleb Desnoyers, Gavin McKenna, and Tij Iginla, among others, and with four autographs or memorabilia cards in a box, you're probably going to pull something that you'll love. If you've got any interest in prospecting, this product's a must-own.

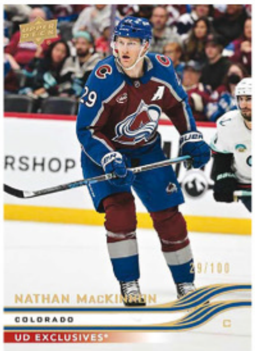
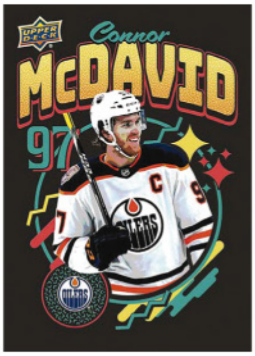
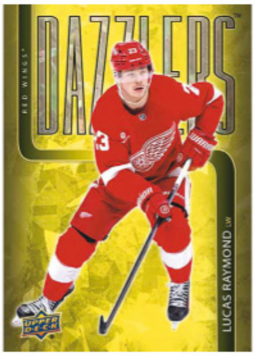
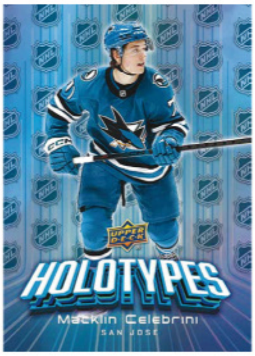
2025-26 UPPER DECK SERIES 1





CUP QUEST
IGOR SHESTERKIN
NEW YORK RANGERS





WHAT IS IT?: It won't be the first 2025-26 product to hit the shelves of your LCS, but for many collectors the arrival of UD 1 marks the beginning of the new trading card season. As with last year, the release date coincides with the kickoff of the NHL campaign, ensuring it will be in front of fans and collectors alike at a time that will maximize demand. UD is maintaining the streamlined approach to packs and boxes introduced in 2023-24. Boxes will include 12 packs, but each pack will deliver at least three inserts. Young Guns will again drop 1:2 hobby packs.

THE BASICS: You don't mess with a winning formula. The base set includes 200 veterans and 50 Young Guns. The early release means that the shortprinted subset will only feature players who made their debut late in the 2024-25 season, but that list could include some potential hobby behemoths like Ivan Demidov, Alexander Nikishin, Gabe Perreault, Ryan Leonard, Zeev Buium, and Zayne Parekh. It's a star-studded group that should inspire a heavy break.

There's also a stacked parallel program, including:

- Silver Outburst – 1:15, Young Guns – 1:60
- Clear Cut – 1:48 hobby packs, Young Guns – 1:144 hobby packs
- Deluxe – /250
- Exclusives – /100
- Outburst Red – /25
- High Gloss – /10
- Outburst Gold – 1/1

Select base cards have a couple of rare spinoffs as well. Look for Variations (1:2,000) and Base Snow Spray Autographs (1:4,000).

CHASE HIGHLIGHTS: Upper Deck Series 1 offers a deep lineup of inserts to fill that three-per-pack ratio. Many will be familiar, but there are a few new additions to keep the breaks fresh.

UD Canvas highlights the returnees with 120 new cards. Veterans are 1:4 packs while Young Guns are 1:24. These have two levels of parallels: Black and White (1:48, Young Guns 1:144) and Printing Plates (1/1).

UD Portraits (1:5) take on a new artistic style. Parallels include (1:40), Red (/199), and Gold (/25).

Dazzlers return as well, with Blue, dropping one per hobby box. Pink (1:144), Gold (1:2,880), and Green (1:4 blaster packs) are also available.

Graded cards are the inspiration for Population Count. While not serial numbered, each card is limited to the number shown on the front. Tiers include 1,000, 500, 100, 50, 25, 10, and 1.

Holotypes (1:504) throw it back to the '90s with a hologram background. These are exclusive to Series 1 and won't appear again this season.

New insert concepts include Bootleg (1:1,140), where all 18 cards in this set use a different design. Other insert themes include Compositions (1:5), Sizzle Reel (1:5), Tracking Systems (1:5), Bustle (1:8), Cup Quest (1:8), Goal Oriented (1:8), and Compadres (1:10). Each of these has Speckle, Red (/199), Gold (/25), and Printing Plate (1/1) parallels as well.

WHAT DO YOU THINK? You know what you're getting from UD 1. It's the safest bet in the business, boasting a quality base set backed by a strong holdover crop of Young Guns, along with a varied slate of inserts that makes every pack a blast to break. Add in the potential of some sort of Easter Egg insert and we can't wait for October to arrive.

- Dazzlers Blue – 1
- Bustle, Compadres, Sizzle Reel, or Tracking System – 8 total
- Compositions, Cup Quest, Goal Oriented, or UD Portraits – 8 total
- Encore – 4
- Insert Speckle Parallels – 2
- UD Canvas – 4
- Clear Cut Parallels, UD Canvas Black and White, or Encore Blue – 1 total

It was a record-setting month on the auction circuit for two of hockey's biggest stars.

Less than three weeks after scoring his 895th regular-season goal to snatch the NHL's all-time mark from Wayne Gretzky, Alex Ovechkin smashed a hobby barrier of considerable significance when a copy of his 2005-06 The Cup Autographed Rookie Patches Gold Rainbow (#179) sold for $381,000.

The card, which appropriately had been slabbed by BGS with a grade of NM-Mint 8, was sold as part of Sotheby's Timeless Titans/Legendary Sports Cards auction on April 21.

The single, a parallel to Ovechkin's most desirable Rookie Card, was limited to just eight copies to match his jersey number. Critically, this card was serial numbered 8/8. It was probably no coincidence that it was Lot #8 in the Sotheby's auction.

The subgrades received by the card were a 9 for centering and 9.5s for both edges and surface. The corners, which were affected by slight touches not uncommon for the first edition of The Cup, were deemed a 7.5.

Demand for the single likely was boosted by the spectacular four-color patch that's the centerpiece of the design. It's hard to imagine a more visually striking example of the single was produced.

With key Ovechkin cards consistently selling above expectations during his record chase, there was great anticipation around the auction of this single. It's the first example to be offered via public sale in four years, according to Sotheby's.

The previous record for any Ovechkin card was achieved at a 2021 Goldin Auction when a PSA 10 Gem Mint copy of his 2005-06 The Cup #179 RC /99 sold for $182,400.

Aside from setting a new high-water mark for an Ovechkin card, the sale appears to be the third-highest public sale of any hockey card and the highest for any modern hockey card.

The current record for any hockey card is the $3.75 million paid for a 1979-80 O-Pee-Chee #18 Wayne Gretzky RC in 2021. The sale of that PSA 10 Gem Mint card, one of just two in that condition, was brokered by Heritage Auctions. The same company had previously sold the other PSA 10 Gretzky for $1.29 million in 2020.

The previous public sale record for a modern hockey card, a period generally regarded as 1990 to date, was the $228,000 paid for the 2015-16 The Cup #197 Connor McDavid RC. That card, one of just two PSA 10 Gem Mint copies in circulation, was sold by Heritage in 2022.

While this sale has grabbed the hobby's attention, it's possible an even bigger number could be on the horizon.

The 2005-06 The Cup Autographed Rookie Patches Gold Rainbow has been slabbed eight times by BGS (It's worth noting that a copy may have been slabbed more than once in a gambit to acquire a higher grade). While this is the only example to earn a NM-Mint 8 grade, five were encased with higher marks. There are three NM-MT+ 8.5 cards, one Mint 9, and two Gem Mint 9.5 examples in circulation.

No other professional grader has slabbed this single.

Any attempt to put a price on those higher examples would be pure speculation, but given how well this sale went it would not be surprising to see one or more of those cards hit the market in relatively short order.

The other record-setting sale was delivered by five-time scoring champion McDavid on May 16 when the 2015-16 Ultimate Collection Spectrum Teal #109 sold for $305,000. The 1/1 card features an event-used NHL shield patch and an on-card autograph from the Oilers superstar and was slabbed as authentic, but not graded, by PSA.

It now ranks as the highest price paid for a card of McDavid, the greatest player of his generation, and the second-highest for a modern card, trailing only the Ovechkin.

The card previously sold for $181,800 at a 2023 Goldin Auction.

Both sales transpired with good news in the air. McDavid's Oilers had booked a ticket to the Western Conference Final the previous night, while Ovechkin confirmed that he would return to the Capitals for the 2025-26 season with an eye on extending his goal-scoring record to 900 and beyond.

SPITTING FACTS

DUSTIN WOLF COULD BE THE NEXT BIG THING, WILL SMITH IS GREATNESS HIDING IN PLAIN SIGHT, AND JET GREAVES IS A NAME YOU CAN'T – AND SHOULDN'T – FORGET. THESE ARE SOME OF THE TRUTHS WE LEARNED OVER THE COURSE OF THE 1,312 NHL GAMES PLAYED THIS SEASON.

By Carter Lake

Fact 1: Dustin Wolf won't win the Calder, but will make his mark on the hobby

Despite years of experience, even the best scouts admit there's no pure science when it comes to identifying the next great goalie.

Watch a few games and then throw a dart or pick a name out of a hat. Your odds of guessing who could be the next Martin Brodeur or Andrei Vasilevskiy might not be quite as good as those of the pro bird dogs, but they're probably close.

The progression from prospect to proven pro is fraught with peril and difficult to map, making the drafting of netminders an exercise in following your gut instinct. And that makes it hard sometimes to overlook your scouting prejudices.

That might explain why Dustin Wolf was almost overlooked in his 2019 draft year. He was the 214th player taken. Only three players were selected after him before the cast of NHL general managers closed up shop and went home. Despite putting up sensational numbers with Everett of the WHL (41-15-2, 1.69 GAA, .936 save percentage), Wolf heard the names of 21 goalies called before his own. Scouts recognized the success he had, but there was a problem. They were looking for the prototypical modern goalie, the 6-foot-4 behemoth who blocks out the sun, or at least most of the net, with just his physical presence. Wolf fell short by those standards, standing just 6-foot and weighing 166 pounds.

But here's the thing: He stops pucks. He stopped them in the Dub. He stopped them in the AHL, where he was twice named best goaltender and earned league MVP honors in 2023.

He did it again this season in Calgary, where he won almost twice as many games in regulation as he lost despite playing behind the league's worst offense.

His success comes as no surprise to those who view him regularly.

"I'm not a goalie coach, but just watching him, he's so smart," teammate Brayden Pachal said. "He thinks the game so well … a back door pass, he's there before the pass even gets there. I think he's just really smart, really athletic, and super positionally sound. It allows him to make saves and not give up rebounds, and that's key to being an NHL goalie.

"He's a superstar at it already."

Wolf came into the season as a tandem with Dan Vladar, but it quickly became apparent he gave the Flames their best chance to win. He put up a 2.64 GAA and three shutouts in 53 games for Calgary and led all rookie netminders with 29 wins — 14 more than the next-closest player and one shy of the franchise rookie record set by Mike Vernon in 1986-87. He allowed two goals or fewer in 25 of his 53 appearances and saved 11.9 goals above expected, a better mark than established stars like Jake Oettinger, Frederik Andersen, and Sergei Bobrovsky.

As much as fellow Calder finalists Macklin Celebrini and Lane Hutson meant to their teams, neither player directly contributed to as many wins as Wolf.

"I think he should be honestly getting a lot more attention," said teammate Morgan Frost. "He should be right up there (mentioned with the best goalies). He can steal games for a team, he's been so good, so to do that as a rookie is real impressive."

Wolf's cards are still relatively affordable, a reflection of the current status of the Flames. Those bargains may not last long, however. The Calder nod will alert many to his achievements, and there's an expectation that both he and the Flames will build on that success next season.

If he does that, you can forget about the size of the package. Wolf will be the hobby's Next Big Thing.

Fact 2: Jet Greaves is the most intriguing under-the-radar goalie prospect

You can forgive yourself if Greaves and his 11 RCs slipped your notice back in 2023-24. Few collectors outside of Blue Jackets diehards were aware of the undrafted netminder even after he set a franchise record with 46 saves in his NHL debut on April 4, 2023. It didn't help that with Elvis Merzlikins locked in as the team's starter, Greaves was limited to just nine games the following season.

But when Merzlikins was sidelined by an upper-body injury in 2025, it was Greaves who was called upon to backstop the Jackets as they battled for a playoff spot. The 24-year-old was brilliant down the stretch, going 7-2-2 with a .938 save percentage and 1.91 goals-against average in 11 starts to keep Columbus in the mix until the final game of the season.

Greaves made 21 saves for his first NHL shutout in a 7-0 win against the Washington Capitals on April 12 and then stopped 29 more to defeat the Caps 4-1 the next night. Along with a 39-save performance in a 3-2 win over the Sabres, that three-game stretch saw Greaves stop 90 of 93 shots (a .968 save percentage) to earn NHL First Star of the Week honors.

Then there's this number: Greaves posted a remarkable Goals Saved Above Expected of 14.5 in those 11 games, or 1.38 per 60 minutes, the only netminder whose play carved a goal or more out of an opposing team's offense per game. The next closest was Toronto's Anthony Stolarz who posted a .779, barely half of Greaves.

Eleven games is a small sample size to be sure, but it's clear Greaves is now an NHL goalie. He has a one-way NHL deal for 2025-26, so he's close to a lock to spend the full season in Columbus. The question that remains to be answered is if he can translate that impressive run into a tandem role or a long-term starting job.

At a smallish 6-foot, 179 pounds, Greaves isn't the classic modern goalie. Still, he's found a way to stop the puck at every level, impressing coaches and teammates alike. And with the Jackets weighing the option of buying out the underperforming Merzlikins, and with little reason to hand the reins over to Daniil Tarasov, he should get every opportunity to star behind an improving Blue Jackets roster.

Greaves, who might have the coolest name in hockey since Zarley Zalapski, is going to get his chance. You might not want to wait on his cards.

Fact 3: Adam Fantilli is on the precipice of superstardom

The 2023 draft, headlined by Connor Bedard, is viewed as one of the most star-laden in years. So it says something about Fantilli that he was the first in his class to record a 30-goal campaign.

The 20-year-old forward rebounded from his injury-shortened rookie season to post 31-23-54 totals, a solid sophomore performance. He tied for the team goal-scoring lead in Columbus and finished fifth in points.

Safe to say he turned some heads around the league and in the hobby with that muscular effort.

The youngster credits an invitation from Nathan MacKinnon to join him and Sidney Crosby in Nova Scotia for a week of training last summer for taking that next step forward in his game.

“When I was younger, it was always Sidney Crosby (who I looked up to), and I wanted to just watch him as much as possible,” Fantilli told NHL.com. “As I started to get older, I’ve watched MacKinnon for so long, and I’ve wanted to play just like him and try to be just like him.

“I went up and skated with them in Halifax this summer for a week and got to see (MacKinnon) and Sid. They work so hard in the offseason. It was really great to see.”

Fantilli couldn’t ask for better role models. Both players extract every bit of talent from their bodies with extensive preparation. It speaks to the youngster’s commitment that he’s getting guidance from those two legends as he looks to reach his massive potential.

The hard work became apparent when opportunity knocked. Center Sean Monahan was lost to a wrist injury in early January, forcing the Jackets to lean on Fantilli to produce on the first line. Over the two months of fill-in duty, he posted 12 goals and 23 points in 28 games, highlighted by a pair of hat tricks.

The return of Monahan late in the season did nothing to slow him down. Fantilli scored seven times in the last six games to become the youngest player to score 30 this season.

“He’s playing his best hockey, and I think that’s probably the most important thing is he’s showing he’s a big-time player at such a young age,” teammate Zach Werenski told NHL.com. “It’s exciting for the organization, the city, the fans, his teammates, guys like me that are a little bit older now. To have a guy like that in this organization, it gets you excited.”

Although Columbus’ playoff push fell short, Fantilli continued his relationship with Crosby and MacKinnon with Team Canada at the 2025 World Championship. That doesn’t simply bode well for another growth spurt next season. Fantilli has an eye on representing his country at the Olympics down the road.

“Obviously that’s something I want to be a part of, maybe not next year but five years from now,” he said ahead of the Worlds. “That’s been a goal of mine for a long time. I grew up watching guys play in these tournaments, so I want to be one of those guys at some point, too.”

Based on his play this season, Fantilli’s time may be coming sooner than later.

Fact 4: Ivan Demidov is the most exciting 2025-26 holdover RC

On paper, it was a meaningless game between two hard-luck teams just playing out the schedule.

But for fans in attendance for Chicago's tilt in Montreal on April 15, it was the game that marked the dawn of a new era for the Canadiens with the debut of Ivan Demidov.

The Habs couldn't believe their good fortune when the Russian sniper dropped into their laps at fifth overall at the 2024 NHL draft. There were questions at the time about when he'd be available to come to the NHL, but there he was, in their lineup less than a year later. And it didn't take him long to give the home fans something to believe in.

He earned his first NHL point six minutes into the game with a fragrant pass to Alex Newhook to give the Canadiens a 1-0 lead. Just over six minutes later, Demidov scored his first NHL goal with a slick forehand-to-backhand move to beat Blackhawks goalie Arvid Soderblom.

"It was an elite execution," Canadiens head coach Martin St. Louis said after the game. "A little deception to the backhand. It was really nice."

It was just a taste of what might lie ahead. The 19-year-old is an incredibly talented offensive player who can drive a line with his playmaking or his zippy shot. Before arriving in Montreal Demidov had 19 goals and 49 points in 65 games with SKA St. Petersburg, setting a KHL record for the most points in a season by an under-20-year-old. The previous record of 42 points had been set by Kirill Kaprizov in 2016-17. No surprise that he was the favorite to take home the Russian league's Rookie of the Year honors, or that he's viewed as a future first-line forward for the Habs.

His explosive potential was obvious to Capitals analyst Alan May, who got a good look at the youngster during Washington's first-round series against Montreal.

"If they ever pump him up with (Nick) Suzuki and (Cole) Caufield full time, wow, there's going to be a lot of goals scored, and you're going to see those three guys get 100 points each, because he is that good," May told Montreal radio station Sportsnet 590 The Fan. "I was amazed to see him play. I can't believe what he can do with his wheels, with his skates, the edge work that he has, the shiftiness. He's really one of a kind. He's been a blast to watch, especially in person. And man, he has not disappointed me."

Although collectors will have to wait a few months for his RCs, Davidov already has a couple of official NHL releases available to chase. His 2024-25 UD Game Dated Moments (/1,199, Gold /100) and his 2024-25 Topps Now sticker both commemorate that memorable NHL debut. Given his vast potential, these cards may never be more affordable.

Fact 5: Thomas Harley is the most promising young defenseman in the NHL

Sometimes all a player needs is an opportunity. Maybe even two.

For Harley, 23, a door opened when Shea Theodore broke his wrist in the opener of the 4 Nations Face Off in February. The injury earned the young defender a call-up to Team Canada for the pressure-packed event but it wasn't until an illness sidelined Cale Makar that he was officially allowed to join the roster.

He played two games in the tournament, both against the star-studded Team USA, and looked like a natural fit as the Canadians took down the favored Americans. He even picked up an assist on Nathan MacKinnon's opening goal in the championship game.

"I think that helped him. I think it gave him confidence," Team Canada assistant, and Dallas head coach, Pete DeBoer said. "He's got a real quiet confidence to him. He's never overwhelmed."

When Harley returned to Dallas, he was asked to fill in as the top defenseman for the Cup-contending Stars who found themselves without their anchor, Miro Heiskanen. He handled the transition from being the sidekick to the go-to guy with ease.

"We definitely don't have the record we have (in) the second half (without him)," DeBoer said. "I don't know what would have happened if he hadn't stepped into the role he did coming out of the 4 Nations, and by the way he did it."

His growth was evidenced by the numbers. In the 48 games before Heiskanen was hurt, Harley put up seven goals and 16 assists. Not bad, but nothing that sent anyone rushing to the LCS to break 2020-21 packs searching for his RC. In the 30 games after the injury he came alive, scoring nine goals and 27 points, a 0.9-points-per-game average that topped even the heavily hyped Lane Hutson.

Clearly, this is a player who can put up the kind of offense that forces the hobby to pay attention. And big-game pressure? No problem for Harley. With the Stars – and Team Canada – poised to play plenty of those contests in the coming years, Harley's profile is sure to rise.

Fact 6: Connor Bedard deserves your patience

Look, we get it. The hype that propelled Bedard, the top pick in the 2023 draft, into a hobby phenomenon that attracted not just hockey collectors but speculators from across the board, set expectations for an immediate leap into superstardom.

But the path to destiny is rarely a straight line. Players can experience uneven weeks, months, and even seasons as they figure out how to turn massive potential into routine greatness. So maybe Bedard's 23-goal, 67-point sophomore season left you wondering if you bought a bag of magic beans, but the reality is he's still a teenager playing a man's game. He still has a lot to learn before he becomes the best version of himself.

If history teaches us anything, it's that patience can pay dividends.

And honestly, those numbers are better than you might think.

Consider the path of another can't-miss prospect. Nathan MacKinnon, the top pick in the 2013 draft, struggled massively to live up to the hobby's expectations. He delivered a strong 63-point rookie campaign, but followed that up with just 38 points as a sophomore, then posted 52 and 53 over the next two seasons. His ice time plummeted, his confidence dried up, and he became a whipping boy for Avs fans and collectors alike.

Smash cut to his fifth season. MacKinnon exploded for 39 goals and 97 points on his way to a second-place finish in Hart Trophy voting. Over the next seven seasons, he fully established himself as the game's greatest player not named McDavid, winning a Stanley Cup and a Hart Trophy along the way and becoming one of the hobby's most desirable pulls.

MacKinnon reminded everyone to go easy on Bedard in The Athletic. "He's a 19-year-old kid and he's close to a point a game," he said. "I'd have killed for that when I was 19. I had like 30 points. He's doing great.

"It definitely takes some time. I think Connor looks great, honestly. He creates so much. Sometimes the puck's just not going in for him. It happens."

MacKinnon makes it clear: Bedard is capable of amazing things. Collectors who bail on him now do so at their peril.

Fact 7: Macklin Celebrini is way better than the hobby is giving him credit for

No one was surprised when Celebrini was named one of the three finalists for the NHL's Calder Trophy on May 5. The 18-year-old center led NHL rookies in points-per-game (0.90), was second in goals (25) and assists (38), tied for second in points (63), and finished fourth in game-winning goals (4). He also topped the San Jose Sharks in points, even-strength points (41), power-play goals (8), and multi-point games (16), and was second on the team in goals (25) and assists (38). Celebrini was the only NHL rookie to be his team's top scorer this season and the second ever to lead the Sharks in scoring over a season (the last was Pat Falloon during the team's 1991-92 inaugural season).

And he backed up those offensive results with a relentless commitment to play 200-foot hockey. That may not dazzle collectors, but it's the kind of effort that earns a player trust from his coaches, which only leads to more opportunities in big moments.

"He's one of our better defensive centers. You ask coaches around the league, for an 18-year-old kid, it's remarkable," Sharks coach Ryan Warsofsky said. "He's committed to getting better at every aspect of the game."

Perhaps it's a reflection of collector frustration with Bedard, but it's surprising more money hasn't been directed towards Celebrini's cards. There's little more he could have done to justify his first-overall selection last June. And while his season ended earlier than he would have liked, he was quick to accept an invite to join Team Canada at the World Championship, where he immediately elevated himself into the conversation for an Olympic spot next February. Just ask his linemate Sidney Crosby.

"[Celebrini] holds on to the puck so well and plays with a lot of poise, and he gave me a nice tap in [goal] tonight," the Penguins legend said after a round-robin victory. "I'm hoping I can have as much poise as [Macklin] and set him up for more goals at some point, but it has been a lot of fun to play with him. He makes me work hard in practice and in games, so I need to keep up with him."

Crosby's masterful game makes him a notoriously tough player to skate with, but Celebrini made it look easy. If that doesn't give you a hint of where his game is at, and where it could be headed? Well, don't say we didn't warn you.

Fact 8: Will Smith is the best rookie you're not collecting

As the first-overall pick, Celebrini is understandably the focus of attention in San Jose. But Smith, the fourth-choice in 2023 who just finished his first NHL season, is equally deserving of the hobby's attention. The crafty forward finished fourth in rookie scoring with 45 points and only three first-year players — Celebrini, Philadelphia's Matvei Michkov, and Anaheim's Cutter Gauthier — scored more goals than Smith's 18.

A slow start may have dimmed the hobby's expectations as the former Boston College standout struggled to adapt to the pro game, but a strong second half highlighted the elite offensive tools and sharp two-way game that sets Smith up as a future star. He tallied 30 points in his final 34 games and demonstrated that he can be a play driver as well as a finisher. Smith is a natural center but seemed to find his groove skating the wing alongside Celebrini. Whether he remains there or is moved back to his natural position may be impacted by the 2025 draft. San Jose picks second and likely will select from a bounty of young centers including Michael Misa, Caleb Desnoyers, and Anton Frondell. Wherever he lines up, he already has the look of a top-six forward at 20 and is just scratching at his elite potential on a young team that is rapidly building a roster with championship aspirations.

25 MEMORABLE NON-MAINSTREAM RELEASES

There's more than one way to get cards in the hands of collectors. While we may be conditioned to head to our LCS to buy packs or boxes of the latest release, manufacturers of cardboard collectibles have devised multiple approaches to stoking our hobby fervor. Here's a look at 25 releases from the past 25 years that strayed from the mainstream but made a significant impact in the hobby.

01 2008-09 Upper Deck National Hockey Card Day

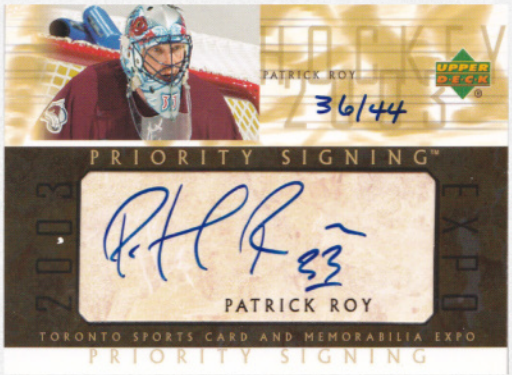
The calendar is full of thinly disguised marketing ploys dressed up as tribute days, so why not dedicate one to our hobby? Full marks to the Upper Deck staff for conceiving and executing the original plan to drive Canadian collectors to their local shops (along with select Wal-Mart and Toys R Us locations) on February 21, 2009. The lure was a star-studded 15-card set comprised of three subsets: Canada's Rookies, Pride of Canada, and Hockey Heroes, offering players including Wayne Gretzky, Sidney Crosby, Bobby Orr, and more. Most shops offered one five-card pack free with purchase, while others gave them away to anyone who came through the doors. Either way, the promotion gained mainstream publicity and generated heavy foot traffic for the participating LCS. Three years later the program expanded to embrace American collectors, usually timed in conjunction with USA Hockey's Hockey Weekend in America. The program has become a highly anticipated annual event as Upper Deck works with local dealers to up the ante and grow the hobby.

02 2015 Upper Deck Employee Exclusive Precious Metal Gems

PRECIOUS METAL GEMS
DYLAN LARKIN
2015-16 METAL UNIVERSE

There are plenty of perks that come with working for a trading card company. Rubbing shoulders with athletes. Having the coolest gig of anyone at your kid's school's Career Day. And every now and then, free collectibles. UD first awarded a series of Employee Exclusive cards in 2013 that included a Quad Spokesman Fabrics card that featured Wayne Gretzky. It wasn't until two years later that it issued the first hockey-focused exclusive set built around the design of the wildly popular Precious Metal Gems to honor the hard work of its staff. That set used a Purple design and featured six cards, each limited to 150 copies. And what a checklist: Connor McDavid, Jack Eichel, Dylan Larkin, Sam Bennett, Nikolai Ehlers, and Max Domi. Of course, that generous gift left the staff with the tough choice of keeping or selling the cards. Fortunately, many chose to cash them out – at some shockingly high prices in the early going. That initial success ensured the company would make an annual tradition of the gifts, and set collectors on edge waiting to see if their PC player would be featured in that season's edition.

03 2003-04 Upper Deck Toronto Fall Expo Priority Signings



Coming up with creative ways to support dealers at major card shows has been a focal point for the marketing teams of major manufacturers for decades, but few of their efforts have been as successful as Priority Signings. The concept, first introduced at the 2003 Toronto Fall Expo, rewarded attendees who purchased and broke boxes at the show with a chance to earn one of 11 event-exclusive signed cards. That first set was packed with superstars, including Gordie Howe, Patrick Roy, Martin Brodeur, and Pavel Bure, with print runs varying from 25 (Dany Heatley) to 110 (Joe Thornton). The program was a smashing success, encouraging UD to continue and improve upon it through much of the ensuing two decades. If you're a superstar collector, chances are you have one or more Priority Signings in your binders, or on your want list.

CONNOR BEDARD

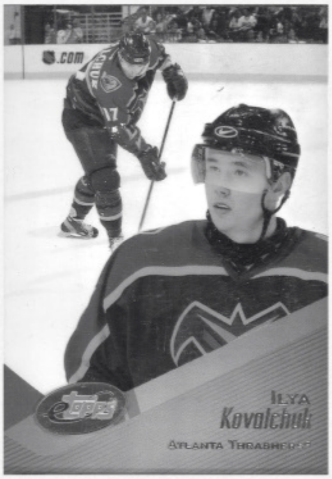
Pats

04 2020-21 Regina Pats

One of the oldest teams in the Western Hockey League, the Pats had released dozens of trading card sets dating back to a series in 1981-82 that included the first singles of Barry Trotz, Gary Leeman, and Lyndon Byers, among others. None of those, however, prepared the team for the frenzy that would be generated when it released the first card of 15-year-old uber-prospect Connor Bedard. The print run was reportedly limited to 500 sets but those sold out so quickly through the team's store that an additional run was produced. Demand was so great that these also were immediately soaked up, with Bedard singles hitting the secondary market and selling for hundreds of dollars in raw and, eventually, graded form. This is, without a doubt, the most iconic junior team set ever produced.



05 2001-02 eTopps

In 2001, Topps saw the future, and it was online direct-to-consumer sales. eTopps cards were sold via IPOs (Initial Player Offerings) for seven days at a price of around $5-$7 each. They were produced to order (with a stated maximum print run), then slabbed and held by Topps in a climate-controlled warehouse, allowing ownership to change virtually until a buyer requested delivery of the physical card.

Topps went big on promoting the concept, spending nearly $6 million to acquire thePit.com (a site that billed itself as a sports card stock market) and striking a deal with eBay to facilitate trade for cards from all four major sports.

The first series of 35 hockey cards were attractive, looking like a high-end Stadium Club offering, but the hobby approached them skittishly. Sales that first season were fine, varying from 457 for San Jose forward Owen Nolan (#21) to a whopping 2,513 for rookie sensation Ilya Kovalchuk (#31), but clearly showed the hesitance of collectors. The numbers improved the second season, with several players selling out at 2,000 copies, and might have built on the continuing success of 2003-04, but the line ended with the 2004 lockout, and the company's ensuing loss of its hockey license.

The cards maintain a cult following today, but the real significance is the foresight the company showed in developing a line that presaged a demand for virtual cards that would exist 20 years down the line.

CHINA GAMES
Connor McDavid

06 2017-18 Upper Deck China Series

The NHL's long-running Global Series delivered the game and its stars to the most exotic locations yet with the 2017 China Games. The Los Angeles Kings took both preseason games over the Vancouver Canucks, winning 5-2 on September 21 in Shanghai, and 4-3 on September 23 in Beijing.

The event was a huge success on the ice as well as in the hobby, thanks to an aggressive effort by UD to introduce hockey cards to Chinese fans. Spectators at both games were given a booklet explaining the hobby, and it included a perforated sheet featuring eight exclusive hockey cards to whet their appetites. The player selection was ideal, with two players each from the Kings and Canucks – Drew Doughty, Anze Kopitar, Henrik Sedin, and Bo Horvat – along with current superstars Connor McDavid and Sidney Crosby, and legends Wayne Gretzky and Patrick Roy. Curiously, the design was reminiscent of Upper Deck's inaugural 1989 baseball card set, but with the China Games logo in place of the team logo. Few made their way back into the North American hobby, making them some of the most challenging (and pricey) cards to haunt the want lists of dedicated player collectors.

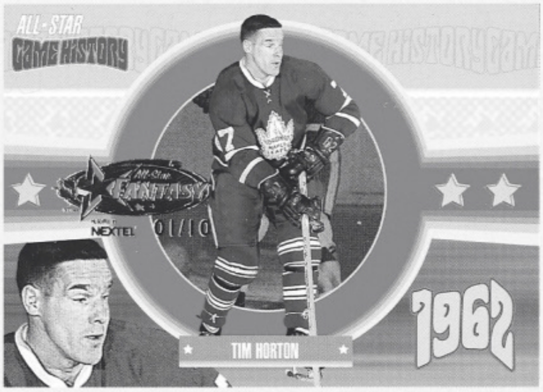
JOE SAKIC
JUNE 14, 20
WINNER
LESTER B. PEARSON AWARD

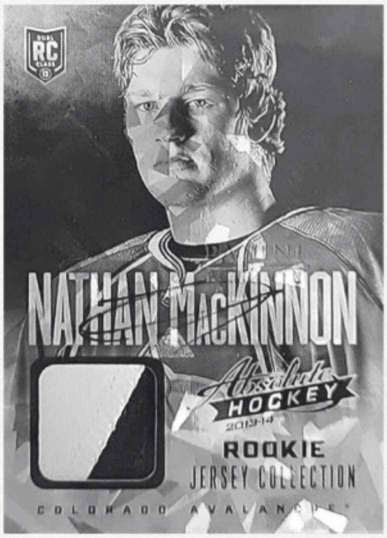
07 2001 Upper Deck Pearson Award

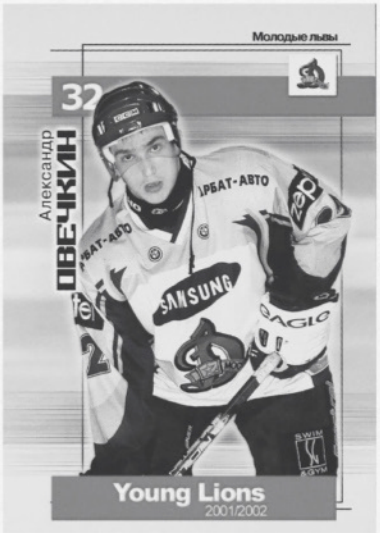
The Lester B. Pearson Award (now known as the Ted Lindsay Award) might not get the hype of the Hart Trophy, but as an honor given to the league's best player as voted by his peers it carries a lot of weight amongst the members of the NHL Players' Association. Back in 2001, UD teamed with the PA to create cards commemorating each of the three nominees for the award – Mario Lemieux, Jaromir Jagr, and the winner, Joe Sakic – to be made available exclusively at the Pearson Award Banquet on June 14. That limited distribution and tight print run made the cards extremely tough for each player's legion of collectors to track down and made them wildly expensive to acquire. UD repeated the tribute in 2002 and 2004, but those cards couldn't match the fervor for that first release.

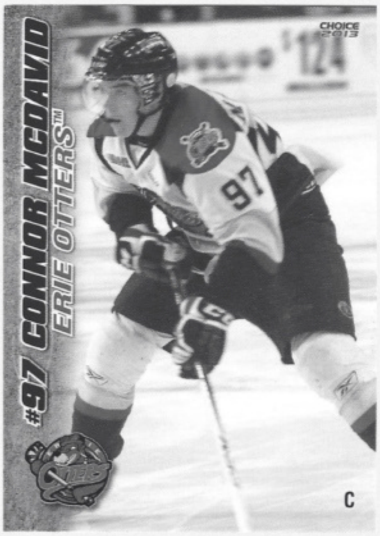
08 2001-02 ITG All-Star FANtasy All-Star Game History

In The Game had developed a solid presence at major shows by offering redemption programs built around serial-numbered parallels of active base sets. For the 2002 NHL All-Star Game in Los Angeles, the company shifted gears to deliver an original set that featured a variety of era-influenced designs built around All-Star Game heroes. The set included some of the game's biggest stars, including Eric Lindros, Jean Beliveau, Tim Horton, and Gordie Howe, and featured a silver foil show log with a numbered print run of 10. The design was later upgraded with jersey swatches for the 2001-02 BAP Ultimate Memorabilia release.









09 2013 Panini Boxing Day

Panini's abbreviated tenure in the hockey market was marked by the appropriation of several "minor" holidays as opportunities to generate hobby shop traffic, but none was more elaborate than this tribute to Canada's version of Black Friday. Along with a 40-card base set built off the Absolute design, each two-card pack gave collectors a chance to pull from one of 38 insert sets including Lava and Cracked Ice parallels, memorabilia cards, autographs, along with patch autographs from players like Nathan MacKinnon and Alexander Barkov. It was a full-product level execution that put some remarkable promotional items in the hands of 150 or so Canadian stores.

10 2001-02 Russian Young Lions

Russian collectors had pursued pins, pennants, postcards, and Panini stickers for decades, but trading card sets were few and far between ... and even fewer bore the imprimatur of the league or team. This 11-card set features some of Russia's top young players, a group that, at the time, was headlined by 2001 first-overall pick Ilya Kovalchuk. It wasn't long though before collectors began taking note of card #3 which featured a 15-year-old Moscow Dynamo forward named Alexander Ovechkin. The card, along with a single from a Dynamo team set issued that same season, has become treasured as his first, and taken on enormous significance over the past 18 months as the Great 8 tracked down and eventually overtook the NHL's all-time goal-scoring record.

11 2012-13 Erie Otters

Connor McDavid was a 15-year-old rookie playing through his Exceptional Status season when the Otters released his first official trading card. Recognizing the likely demand, the team delivered a reasonable production run of the 25-card set, staving off what might have been a mad secondary market rush. While it didn't have that initial insanity to bolster its reputation, the card is still one of his tougher singles to track down, with fewer than 100 Gem Mint copies in circulation.

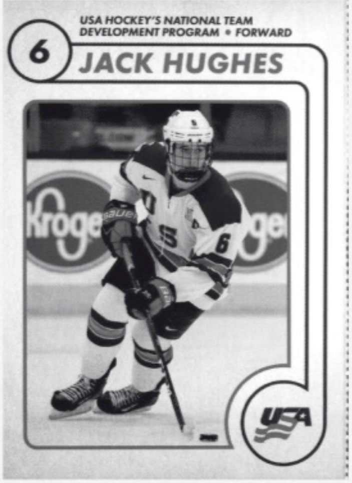
GAME DATED MOMENTS

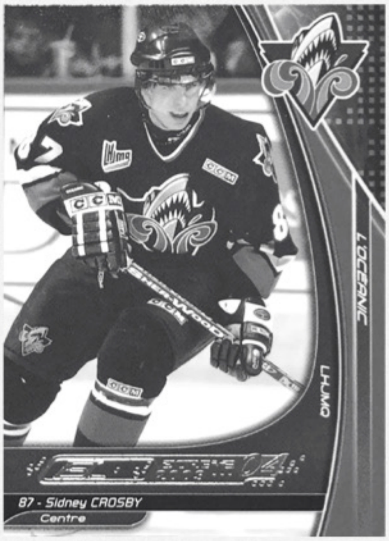
12 2017-18 Upper Deck Game Dated Moments

On-demand cards returned to prominence with this program which offered anywhere from one to four cards per week online. There were immediate complaints – collectors had to buy another pack through the company's ePack site to earn the right to purchase a GDM pack – but fans quickly came to appreciate the opportunity to nab a player's first NHL-licensed single, or capture special events that might not otherwise be preserved on cardboard. The program has flourished since that first season, expanding to other leagues (CHL, PWHL) and sports to offer a collecting experience that is fresh and modern.

13 2018-19 Team USA U18 NTDP

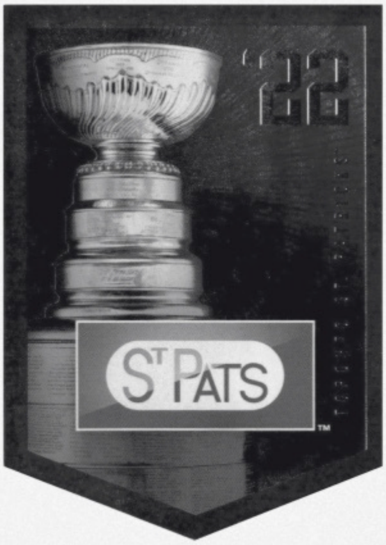


Since 2014, USA Hockey has hothoused its top players within the National Team Development Program, with 408 of its grads going on to become NHL draft picks. Fortunately, it has captured a couple of seasons worth of these teams on trading cards. Take this 2018-19 set for example, which was distributed in five-card perforated strips featuring four current players and one alumnus at five home games in Ann Arbor (Dec. 1, Jan. 1, Jan. 8, Jan. 15, Feb. 1). The checklist featured the first licensed cards of future hobby heroes including Jack Hughes, Cole Caufield, Trevor Zegras, and Spencer Knight, among others, with the alum subset offering cards of Auston Matthews, Patrick Kane, Jack Eichel, and Seth Jones. The games, sadly, were lightly attended, and many of the cards ended up discarded or damaged making them extremely tough to find on the secondary market.



14 2003-04 Rimouski Oceanic

Crosby's arrival came at the dawn of the internet age, ensuring wild anticipation for the player billed as the best junior prospect since Eric Lindros. He quickly lived up to his billing as a 16-year-old, torching QMJHL goalies for 54 goals and 135 points in 59 games, and turning a visit from Rimouski into the hottest ticket in the league. Collector demand for this 25-card set featuring his hobby debut was massive from the get-go, and wisely fueled by the random inclusion of two SP cards, one of which featured a triptych image of Sid. While Crosby has since appeared on nearly 10,000 cards, this set will always be revered for bringing us his first.



15 2012 Panini Molson Stanley Cup

If you're a Canadian collector of a certain age, you probably remember trips to the local beer store to grab a case of your favorite Molson brand silly pop with an eye on building this impossible 92-card set. Four of the cards, which pictured the logo of every Cup-winning team since 1918, were found in specially marked cases and could also be acquired via purchases at Boston Pizza locations across the country. Set building online and at shows became a national passion, making the promotion a massive success for both Molson and Panini.

JACK EICHEL

PATCH

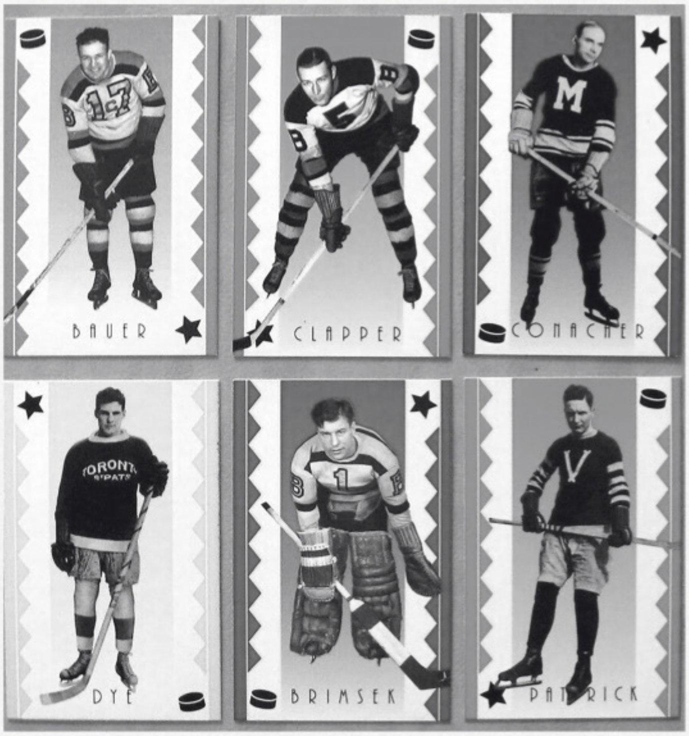
16 2015 Leaf Toronto Fall Expo Jack Eichel

As a manufacturer operating without a league license, Leaf couldn't picture top prospect Jack Eichel in a jersey that displayed the logos of the Buffalo Sabres. What they could display was his autograph. The upstart cardmaker shocked the hobby with the announcement that it had signed Eichel, the second pick in the 2015 draft behind McDavid, to an exclusive signature deal. The company scheduled its first Eichel release, 2015-16 Leaf In The Game Superlative, to coincide with the Expo, then created three special cards of the young center as redemption offers available exclusively at the show. The big draw was a patch autograph limited to 25 copies, but there were also jumbo jerseys and patch cards numbered to 99 or less. It was a bold move to kneecap Upper Deck, and we haven't seen anything like it since.



17 2001-02 Pre-Parkie Promos

These cards were issued to promote a set that never was and, given the absence of licensing, never could have been. Still, these singles boast one of the best designs we've ever seen, pure Art Deco bliss, along with a strong player selection spanning 1910-1950 that teased what the "unnamed manufacturer" might have created. The card backs promised 10,000 serial-numbered boxes with a 90-card set and one autograph per box. All we have though are 10 base promo cards which filtered into the hobby many years after the slated release date. The cards are undersized at 2" by 3 1/8", and feature Cyclone Taylor, Eddie Shore, Frank Brimsek, and Dit Clapper, among others. The real intrigue though surrounds 14 autograph cards that also appeared – clearly these were the cards intended to be inserted in packs. These feature a black-and-white design and are hard-signed by (then) living legends like Gordie Howe, Maurice Richard, Howie Meeker, and Teeder Kennedy. The cards boasted print runs of 500-1,000 copies, some of which are hand-numbered on the back, and which appear to have been signed in 1997. There are reports of two additional autographed cards of Elmer Lach and Butch Bouchard as well. Some of the autographs on these cards were later repurposed for various cut-sig inserts, giving them a legitimate second life in the hobby.

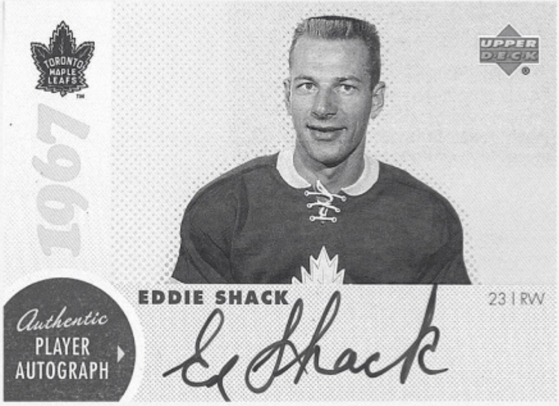
18 2010-11 Russian SeReal KHL

The Russian card market had been kind of a Wild West environment where trifling matters like licensing were often met with a shrug of indifference. There were plenty of cool cards to be sure, but with no parameters on their production, they left the average collector cold. Enter SeReal, which played it by the book and delivered the first licensed set featuring players and teams from across the KHL. That first release offered a 590-card base set and two parallels, but it wasn't long before the company gave Russian fans the full North American treatment with inserts, autographs, and memorabilia cards. The company continues to produce high-end offerings to this day, giving collectors their first look at top young Russian stars like Matvei Michkov, Yaroslav Askarov, and Ivan Demidov.



19 2007 Maple Leafs 1967 Commemorative

As another Cup-less season goes into the history books and the 60th anniversary of the team's last championship looms on the horizon, fans of the Toronto Maple Leafs can find some collectible solace in this exemplary box set produced to honor the city's most recent heroes. Each box included 30 base cards representing the entire team including the trainer and a fantastic shot from the victory parade, along with one hit randomly selected from among 16 on-card autographs, two jersey cards, or two game-used stick cards. The execution of the design was perfect, making every card a little museum piece and the hard sigs make for a challenge nearly two decades later … but then, what do Leafs fans have if not for patience?

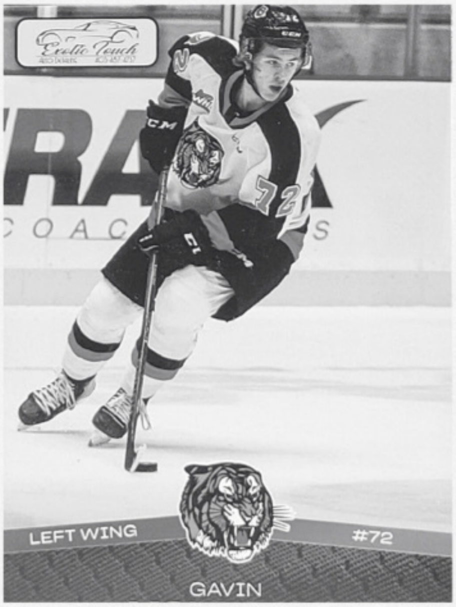
20 2013 Upper Deck Hall of Fame Fan Days Game Jerseys

In an effort to grow the market, the trick for the licensors and manufacturers of trading cards is to turn hockey fans into collectors. And since you won't find more die-hard fans than folks who visit the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, why not create a tie-in for the most heavily attended days of the year? UD built this 30-card set to be given out one per day during July and August of 2013 to the first 1,000 visitors each day. With each card featuring a jersey swatch from a team captain, usually one of the most popular players on a team, it was a can't-miss concept. Aided by heavy local marketing, the set was a huge success with collectors and was repeated the following summer with a 30-card goalie set.



21 2023-24 Medicine Hat Tigers

The significance of this 25-card team-issued set might not yet be universally recognized, but it's only a matter of time. Gavin McKenna, the presumptive first-overall pick in 2026 and hockey's Next Big Thing makes his cardboard debut in the series and it's a tough single to track down. His card has sold for upwards of $250 thanks to his record-setting 54-game scoring streak and his performance for Team Canada at several international events. Add in early singles of Cayden Lindstrom, Andrew Basha, and Thomas Mrsic and it's loaded with potential NHL stars.

22 2007-08 Upper Deck Pepsi

Here's another clever UD collaboration, this time a 32-card set that was printed directly on cardboard cases of Pepsi products in Canada. Each case featured one of four eight-card "sheets," with a checklist that included two cards of Sidney Crosby along with Alex Ovechkin, Martin Brodeur, Jaromir Jagr, Joe Sakic, and more. Finding cases on which the cards weren't scratched in transit was a major challenge, as was safely trimming them off the back. We've yet to clock a single slabbed card, which speaks to how tough they are to find in gradable condition. That said, if you're willing to accept a card that's some degree south of perfection, this set is a fun reminder of the efforts made to grow the hobby.

24 2001 Pacific Montreal International

Pacific wisely started manufacturing show-specific sets to encourage the breaking of its products at major shows, and the Montreal International was well deserving of the attention. The 10-card checklist was brilliant for the time, featuring Quebec-born stars including Mario Lemieux, Patrick Roy, Martin Brodeur, and Ray Bourque. The cards were limited to 499 copies, putting them in that range that's easy enough to acquire with a bit of work, but tough enough to be well worth owning.

23 2013 Choice AHL Outdoor Classic

There have been so many great minor league sets issued over the past 25 years that they probably deserve their own list. This 45-card collection stands out for being a tribute to both the Hershey Bears and Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins, two of the AHL's most storied teams, and one fantastic outdoor game. It boasts a tremendous design, in-game photography, and a solid checklist of future NHLers and minor league legends to make for a compelling addition to any collection.

25 2010-11 Panini All-Goalies

With one slot left on their first-year license and time running out, the Panini team came up with a fascinating concept: a 100-card box set featuring all 90 goalies who qualified by dressing for at least one game during the 2010-11 season, and 10 legends. The box sets were augmented by five Up Close parallels that featured a second image rather than a dull foil shift, and one hit from the 18-card Stopper Sweaters set. For collectors obsessed with puckstoppers, this was the love letter to the position they had been waiting for.

2005-06 THE CUP #179 ALEX OVECHKIN

$41,144 (EBAY)

In the days surrounding his assault on the NHL's all-time goal-scoring record, Ovechkin's cards took on a third kind of heat resulting in some eye-opening sales. This BGS 8.5 NM-MT+ example has real curb appeal with a bold three-color swatch and solid all-around grades. It's one of 34 slabbed in this condition by BGS with 57 graded higher, and drew a whopping 72 bids, indicative of the demand for Ovi's Holy Grail RC in premium condition.

$14,250 (EBAY)

With a print run limited to 15 copies, this is one of Ovi's toughest and most in-demand rookie-season inserts. This example offers two multi-color swatches and is encased in a BGS Mint 9 slab, one of just three in this state with only two copies graded higher. The price illustrates how compelling this single is for his growing legion of collectors and investors.

2005-06 THE CUP #180 SIDNEY CROSBY

$30,035 (EBAY)

Sid's cards have languished in the shadows during Ovechkin's record-setting run, but it's only a matter of time before they pick up again. Crosby's game is showing no signs of deterioration, and there should be plenty of love leading up to the Milan Olympics where he's expected to again captain Team Canada. This BGS Mint 9 example offers a single-color black swatch, but it's one of just 35 copies in this condition, with 10 graded higher. Given how seldom this card hits the market, neither the price nor the 100 bids leading up to it are surprising.

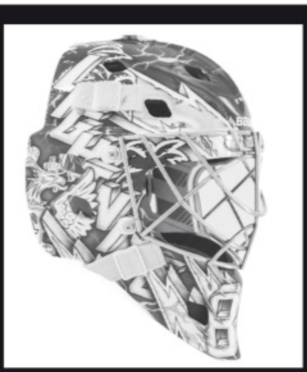
2022-23 TAMPA BAY LIGHTNING ANDREI VASILEVSKIY GAME-WORN MASK

$20,035 (CLASSIC AUCTIONS)



With two Stanley Cups, a Conn Smythe, and a Vezina on his resume, Vasi is arguably the greatest goalie of the 21st century and a lock for the Hockey Hall of Fame. Ponying up for such a unique piece of his history then is a no-brainer. This mask was worn during the 2022-23 regular season and playoffs and was originally obtained directly from the Tampa Bay netminder. For a goalie of his standing, this was a more than fair price to pay. A game-worn Vasilevskiy jersey from this season sold for $2,225 in the same auction.

$2,185 (EBAY)

Here's another card that we haven't seen up for auction in ages, but it's not all that surprising given that just 10 copies were printed. What is surprising is the price. Although it's not a true RC this is a rookie-year patch autograph with a three-color swatch in a PSA Gem Mint 10 slab. Add in the visual impact of a brilliant design and this stacks up with the best value buys of the month.

1951-52 PARKHURST #66 GORDIE HOWE

$13,800 (CLASSIC AUCTIONS)

Mr. Hockey's first card is undoubtedly the most important and desirable RC of the post-war era. Despite that, it can still be found at very reasonable prices compared to the rookies of players of similar stature from other sports. This copy is slightly off-center and shows touches on all four corners, but is still a highly collectible copy given the condition sensitivity of this set. It's one of just 15 SCG NM 7s in circulation, with just 25 copies graded higher by the company.

2024-25 SP GAME USED GREEN #215 MACKLIN CELEBRINI

$2,968 (EBAY)

Are collectors sleeping on Celebrini, or perhaps feeling burned by Connor Bedard? The first pick in the 2024 draft lived up to the hype with a sensational first season, followed by a strong showing alongside Crosby for Team Canada at the 2025 World Championship. His cards are selling well, but not commensurate to his play or his potential, which suggests that some buyers might be playing things conservatively after the "disappointment" of Bedard's second season. Whatever the reason, this autographed 1/1 from SP Game Used seems likely to be well-regarded down the road making this purchase price seem like a safe bet.

Plante's status as arguably the greatest goaltender in NHL history assures him a massive following, with key and/or limited-run cards drawing sizable interest. This single is, essentially, a parallel to his true Parkie RC, and was distributed as a prize in cereal boxes in Canada as part of what might be the toughest of all post-war sets. To say the cards – recognizable by the green lettering on the card backs, instead of the red print used in the standard set – are scarce is only half the story. Those that remain in circulation are never seen in top condition, which makes this PSA NM 7 such a find. It is one of two to earn this grade with none higher out of the 63 submitted to PSA over the years, and would qualify as the gem in any serious vintage collection.

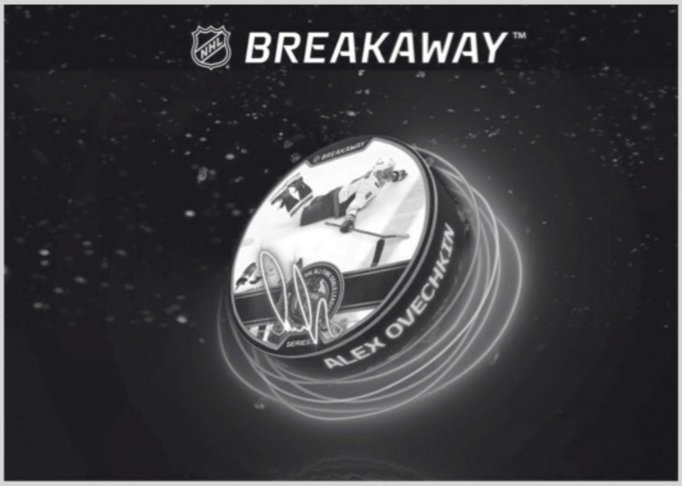
1950 R423 COMPLETE SET

$2,185 (CLASSIC AUCTIONS)

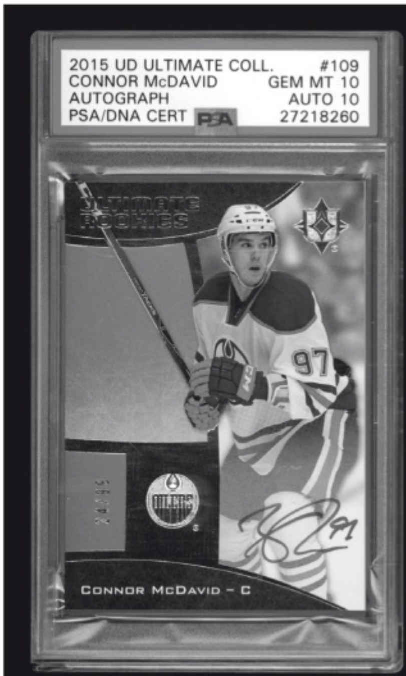
Collectors tend to have an aversion to cards that don't fit the standard size, so it's no surprise that these miniature delights measuring just 5/8" x 3/4" tend to slide underneath the hobby's radar. Despite that widespread indifference these singles, distributed by Oak Sales Company through gumball machines in a 13-card perforated strip format, are some of the toughest cards on the market, with a checklist that includes HOFers King Clancy, Dit Clapper, Lorne Chabot, Roy Worters, and Lionel Conacher, among others. They're wildly tough to track down in decent condition and are even less frequently offered as a full 59-card set. Someone got a great buy here for just over two grand.



2025 NHL BREAKAWAY ALEX OVECHKIN 895 GOALS NFT

$7,625 (HERITAGE AUCTIONS)

It appears the hockey NFT market isn't quite yet ready for a toe tag. This 1/1 collectible created by NHL Breakaway captures the moment Ovechkin scored his 895th career goal, breaking the regular-season record previously set by Wayne Gretzky. As an event, it's as iconic as any in recent memory, which created fairly significant demand for this digital asset, a record-setter of its own in terms of sales price. Whether it retains that desirability down the road will be an interesting tale to watch unfold on the blockchain.



2015-16 ULTIMATE COLLECTION #109 CONNOR MCDAVID

$28,886 (EBAY)

It's been a minute since we've clocked one of these up for auction. This single is one of just three slabbed by PSA, and the only one to earn a Gem Mint 10. A further 12 are in BGS Gem Mint 9.5 slabs with none higher, illustrating how tough this /99 single is to find in top grade. The absence of a patch element did nothing to diminish demand for this true RC, one of the most desirable – and elusive – of McDavid's first-year singles.

1962-63 MONTREAL CANADIENS BERNIE GEOFFRION GAME-WORN SWEATER

(CLASSIC AUCTIONS)

It's hard to believe a sweater worn by a Hall of Fame player more than 60 years ago could be had for this price, but there are always bargains to be found in the hobby. Geoffrion is remembered as the second player to score 50 goals in a season and as one of the most feared shooters of his era. The jersey itself was worn for a single NHL season and is distinguishable by the uniquely cut sleeve numbers. It features multiple team repairs that make it easy to photo-match to confirm provenance. It was secured by a former stick boy for the Regina Pats, an organization that once was run as a junior team by the Habs. The team would often receive recycled Canadiens gear from the big club, which led to this sweater winding up in a storage room in Saskatchewan for more than a decade before being given to the youngster as a gift for his hard work. Not a bad bonus!

2013-14 FLORIDA PANTHERS TIM THOMAS GAME-WORN MASK

$12,545 (CLASSIC AUCTIONS)

His time in Florida was brief (40 games) and largely forgettable, but mementos from this stage of his career still make for hot collectibles. This helmet-cage combo adorned with the classic Panthers logo on the sides came directly from the personal collection of Thomas and has been photo-matched to multiple games to ensure provenance.

The Price Guide

The hobby's most reliable and relied upon source™

What's Listed

Products listed in the Price Guide typically: (1) are produced by licensed major manufacturers, (2) are widely available, (3) have market activity on single cards and (4) focus on players active at the time of issue.

What the Columns Mean

The LO and HI columns reflect current retail selling ranges. The HI column generally represents full retail selling price. The LO column generally represents the lowest price one could expect to find with extensive shopping.

What the Arrows Mean

Up arrows denote prices that went up since last issue. Down arrows denote prices that went down last issue. Arrows don't mean a card or set is "going up" or "going down".

Multipliers

Parallel sets and lightly traded insert sets are listed with multipliers to provide values of unlisted cards. Multiplier ranges (i.e. 20X to 40X HI) apply only to the HI column. Example: If base card A lists for 20 to 50 cents, and the multiplier is "20X to 40X HI", then the parallel version of card A or the insert card in question is valued at $10 to $20.

Pricing Premiums

Some cards can trade at premium price levels compared to values listed in this issue. Those include but are not limited to: cards of players who became hot since this issue went to press, regional stars or fan favorites in high demand locally, and memorabilia cards with unusually dramatic swatches or patches.

Stated Odds and Print Runs

Odds of pulling inserts are listed as a ratio (1:12 = one in 12 packs). If the odds vary by pack type, they are listed separately. Stated odds are provided by the manufacturer based on the entire print run and should not be viewed as a guarantee by either Beckett Publications nor the manufacturer.

Currency

This Price Guide is intended to reflect the entire North American market. All listed prices are in U.S. dollars. Based on the current exchange rate, prices in Canadian dollars are equal.

Grades

Mint (MT) - No flaws. Four perfect corners, 55/45 or better centering, smooth edges, original color borders and gloss; no print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Near Mint-Mint (NRMT-MT) - Must have 60/40 or better centering, smooth edges, original color borders and gloss. One of the following very minor flaws is allowed: a slight touch of wear on one corner, barely noticeable print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Near Mint (NM) - Centering of 70/30 to 60/40. In addition one of the following minor flaws is allowed: a slight touch of wear on two or three corners, slightly rough edges, minor print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Excellent-Mint (EXMT) - Centering no worse than 80/20. No more than two of the following flaws are allowed: two or three fuzzy corners, slightly rough edges, very minor border discoloration, minor print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Excellent (EX) - Centering no worse than 80/20 with four fuzzy corners. May also have rough edges, minor border discoloration and minor print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Very Good (VG) - Handled, but not abused. Slightly rounded corners with slight layering, slight notching on edges, moderate border discoloration, some gloss lost from the surface but no scuffing. May have hairline creases.

Good (G), Fair (F), Poor (P) - Well-worn or abused. Badly rounded and layered corners, scuffing, no original gloss, major border discoloration and serious creases.

Condition Sensitive

Certain cards (marked in the Price Guide with !) or entire sets are condition sensitive because of their border color, consistently poor centering, etc. Such sets and cards sometimes command premiums above the listed percentages in Mint condition.
